01:00:02- This is Hanoch Fiben. Hanoch is an Israeli artist who works all over the world. His works are famous.

01:00:11- Hanoch creates portraits of people from different objects that can be found in every household.

01:00:20- Don't you believe me? Take a look!

01:00:28- Today Hanoch has come to give a portrait workshop.

01:00:41- We all have gathered scraps of plastic, fabric, feathers, cardboard, Styrofoam, nails and anything that came to mind.

01:00:51- You would have probably thought to throw all this stuff out

01:00:59- Together with Hanoch we are making portraits of our families. Some of us are making a portrait of Mum or dad others of their brothers and sisters, grand mother or grand father.

01:01:12- We take large sheets of paper and try to figure out how to make a portrait with all these objects.

01:01:22- Hanoch has asked each of us to use objects that remind us of our family.

01:01:31- Ido has chosen a mouth made of keys for his dad, because his dad has a large set of keys.

01:01:37- Dan has a baby sister so he put a pacifier in her mouth.

01:01:44- And as for me, I have a red head grandmother so I chose red straw for my grand mother's hair.

01:01:53- You cannot imagine what wonderful creations you can make by using simple handy objects.

01:02:01- Have you ever thought of making bottle cap eyes? Or thermometer nose? In Piven's world anything is possible.

01:02:09- And as it turns out, in our world too. Look at the marvelous families we have created from spoons, discs, , keys and other stuff.

01:02:19- As we said, anything is possible..... Now all you have to do is try it at home
