

EASTER EGGS

Welcome to the Easter egg exhibition ! They are so beautiful and have so many colours...

I wonder how they got so pretty.

At the beginning, they all looked like these eggs.

Two magic hands can transform them. Let's see how they do it.

They sting the shell and get the white and the yolk out.

Then, the egg is having a nice bath and gets some rest until it dries.

Now the real work begins. With a special needle and melted wax, they draw a lot of lines on the egg shell.

It's time for a new bath, in yellow paint this time.

Again, the egg gets some rest until the paint dries a bit.

Other drawings...

The hard-working hands put another layer of wax on the egg.

Now, the egg is more like the ones in the exhibition.

The wax got it too hot, so the egg must be soaked in a red paint.

After a few moments of drying, another drawing session begins.

I hope the black paint bath is the last one.

It seems like the egg is done. To be honest, it's not too pretty.

What is this ? The wax on the egg is melted with a candle, and the egg gets more and more beautiful...

Now, it's really great ! It's obvious that only two magic hands can turn an ordinary egg into a work of art.

EASTER EGGS

Durations: 3'

Music : CD - production SONOTON – SAS 72(32)

Track : Happy folks / composer : Victor Wronski / dur : 2'

CD – production SONOTON – SCD 423(16)

Track : Romantic getaway / composer:Jeff Newmann /dur

:1'