OUR TRIP
2.28 Geysir

This item is a part of a series that was made this winter about places of interest in Iceland. Two boys travel around the country learning about some of the most beautiful places and some of the knowledge they have from a robot that appears on a computer screen when the boys need some pressing questions answered.

In this item the boys travel on their bikes to see Geysir. Geysir is a world famous... well geysir. It used to show its immense power on regular bases few years back but has now been upstaged by it's smaller rival Strokkur. Strokkur is quite magnificent and sends its water high in the air but is not as powerful as Geysir used to be in it's heyday.
