

Berta the pig is impatient

00:02	Hi, I'm Anika.
00:07	And this is my favourite pig. This is Berta.
00:11	Berta's just woken up. She's really hungry.
00:15	She's so hungry, she's even licking the iron bars.
00:23	Berta's impatient. You can easily tell because she's scratching herself.
00:30	Why is it taking so long for her to get her food?
00:38	Most of the animals on the farm have already had theirs.
00:42	the cows ...
00:48	the goose ...
00:57	the goat ...
01:04	the ducks ...
01:12	And even the baby swallows. They get fed by their mother.
01:20	Only poor Berta hasn't eaten yet.
01:24	She's really sad.
01:30	But before Berta gets her food, it's the turn of the little piglets.
01:36	They're only a few weeks old.
01:40	But Berta knows when it's feeding time. Her tummy's rumbling.
01:50	There's my aunt bringing the food.
01:57	Berta gets grain. It's very dry.
02:02	That's why my aunt adds water to it. And milk, so that it tastes better.
02:22	Can you hear her slurping?
02:28	She's really happy and content.
02:37	She's got a snout, so she can smell what she's eating.
02:42	Her snout is all soft and wet.
02:48	Berta has had enough. She can now have a rest.
02:54	She hopes the next meal won't be long coming!
