

Where does your sense of humour go when you get sick ?

- 1'00 Have you ever wondered why, when you're sick, your sense of humour suddenly disappears ?
- 1'08 Ever noticed that it's tough to laugh, when your little bro, or your big sis, or even your dad is sick?
- 1'16 So, Where does your sense of humour go when you get sick ?
- 1'21 You have to be very careful, because it takes one sneeze, and there it goes, you just lost your sense of humour.
- 1'36 The first zit has not yet popped and your sense of humour is already missing! I know, you don't usually think about it right away, but then it's too late, your sense of humour is gone!
- 1'48 I agree, It's no fun being sick, but wouldn't it be easier if you could at least laugh a little? Don't you think your sense of humour could help you scare the germs away? Who knows!
- 2'03 So take the last drop of energy you have left, and run look for your sense of humour ! Quickly, before it gets away!
- 2'10 So, always remember : be nice with your sense of humour, take it out, cuddle it, play with it, make it feel at home. Because when it begins to feel alone, your sense of humour will start to get sick, and then, that's another story!