

KINDJESKOPEN

00:16:32	This is Mr. and Mrs. Peters. They'd like to have a baby.
00:16:38	But... how can they get a baby??
00:16:42	Mrs. Peters has an idea!!
00:16:44	"We'll buy one", she says, "in the supermarket! ... they're bound to have one there."
00:16:49	And they search and they search... among the washing powders, the fresh cheese and the eggs, but... however hard they look...
00:16:56	...they don't find a single baby on the supermarket shelves.
00:16:59	Yeah...what a pity for Mr. and Mrs. Peters, but... babies are simply not on sale in supermarkets...
	OOOOHH (sigh)
00:17:05	"How are we going to get a baby?" they ask themselves.
00:17:13	Mr. Peters has an idea! "We'll write a letter", he says, "... to the stork. He'll bring us a baby from the baby lake."
00:17:26	So they wait ...and they wait... and they gaze and they gaze up into the sky...
00:17:34	and while they do see a stork, it's not carrying a baby!
00:17:48	yeah... what a pity for Mr. and Mrs. Peters, but... storks simply don't bring babies
	OOOOHH (sigh)
00:17:48	Mr. and Mrs Peters don't lose heart! They've got another idea! "We'll sow a cauliflower!" they cry, "after all, little babies come from cauliflowers, don't they?!"
00:17:57	And the plant grows and flourishes, but however well they care for it, raking, watering and pampering it, the cauliflower remains empty...
	OOOOHH (sigh)

	(silence)
00:18:04	Poor old Mr. and Mrs. Peters (silence)
00:18:06	These are all just old wives tales! (silence)
00:18:10	Children come, not from cauliflowers, not from storks and certainly not from the supermarket....!!!
00:18:15	Children come from a man and a woman.
00:18:19	From two people who are in love.
00:18:24	(laughing) No, not from kissing one another!
00:18:27	There are minute sperm cells in men's scrotoms. They look like tadpoles and they can swim.
00:18:33	Women have egg-cells in their tummies which look just like little eggs. An egg-cell is much larger than a sperm cell but... it can't swim.
00:18:42	All it can do is wait until a sperm cell comes along. And then, once they meet, a really wonderful thing happens: they become one. And from this unification a baby is created that grows and grows and after nine months is born.
00:18:55	And Mr. and Mrs. Peters????
00:18:58	Oh, they lived happily ever after and had lots and lots of children.
