

Selected Abstracts of Radio forum to be published in “Journal of Radio and Audio Media”

The selected abstracts covering the issue of Radio in Middle East will be published in the “journal of radio and audio media” under the title of “Symposium: Radio in Middle East”.

The Journal of Radio & Audio Media is a semiannual publication funded with the cooperation of the Broadcast Education Association (BEA), published by Routledge. Michael Brown, the chief editor of the journal vowed to publish four of the best submitted articles dealing with radio in Middle East as subject, in the fall volume of 2009.

Michael Brown, chair of Communication and Journalism Department in University of Wyoming, has shown his interest to participate physically in IRF2009 with presentation of a promising paper.

He is a member of the American Journalism Historians Association, and the Popular Culture Association, particularly active with the Broadcast Education Association.

The Second International Radio Forum is to be held on 18-20 May 2009 in Tehran, Iran.

We are looking forward to receive your short abstracts before the early submission deadline of December 21st 2008.

Sincerely yours,

International Radio Forum Secretariat
