Dear Friends,

The Second International Radio Forum is the host of many experts of radio and Media in May 2009.

Recently we heard that Douglas Kelner professor of media studies in Los Angeles University will cooperate in our Forum and he want to present his article " Role of Radio in president election on 2008". Kelner published several articles and books about media like " Media Spectacle (2003), From 9/11 to terror War: The Dangers of Bush Legacy (2003), The Postmodern Adventure: Science, Technology and Cultural Studies at the Third Millennium, Media Culture: Cultural studies, Identity and Politics Between the Modern and the Postmodern (1995), The Persian Gulf TV War(1992) and so on". He is one of the biggest theorists in the filed of media. Some of his work was translated and published in Persian leaflets such as: Arghanoon, Media and culture, aestheticism, policy economy, policy economy functionary information.

Also, many well-known professors of Media will participate in International Radio Forum like Michael Kate (Boston University), Michael Brown (Wyoming University, Editor of Journal of Radio and Audio Media) Robert Hilliard (Emerson University), Guy Starkey (Sunderland University, head of radio studies team), Salvatore Scifo (Westminster University).

We would be bound to promote your faculties with publication of your publicities, including university logos, in all of our calls, posters, banners and other publicity materials. Also we would invite your official representative to participate physically in our forum. The forum would grant full accommodation including travel costs and local expenses to key speakers.

We appreciate your pleasing collaboration in advance and looking forward to inform us your ideas.

Sincerely yours,
International Radio Forum Secretariat
