Elynoska, a 12 years old girl whose parents are from Curacao wants to join the little Miss Kwakoe election- a multicultural miss election- in Amsterdam. She thinks it's good for her self-confidence and she is really into it but...it won't be that easy!

First: A miss has to behave like a lady and shouldn't yell or fart...Second: she has a golden tooth which is a present from her grandmother. It's also very common in her family... but it doesn't work if you want to be a photogenic miss.

Elynoska starts training and she even has a personal coach to get her in line...will she succeed to be a real miss? And will she offer her tooth?
